

Hot spot removal

Hosokawa Micron has redesigned its CT dryer to provide a mixer, with jacketed cooling capabilities, to remove hot zones and thus eliminate degradation of high value active ingredients within an existing powder drying system. Changes to the design include increased cone angle for maximized volume within the restricted height and double mechanical seals with IPA lubrication.